What is the Council planning to do and why?

The way that domiciliary and sessional support is commissioned by Cardiff Council is due to change. A new arrangement will be put in place for new packages of care from November 2020. The proposed new approach will be based around localities and will support individuals to achieve the outcomes that matter to them, linking into an individual's community and network of family and friends as well as providing commissioned care from care providers. The Council would like to engage with individuals who currently receive domiciliary care to gather feedback to help us shape the new arrangements in order to ensure that they provide the best opportunity to offer excellent care at home for those who need it.

How will this impact me?

Nothing will change to your current service, however, further improvements of the service will be made in order to better meet people's needs going forward. The service will deliver a broad range of support to enable people to have access to resources within their communities and care is likely to be more flexible.

Who can I contact?

If you are worried or anxious about the contents of this letter, please speak to your support provider or social worker or contact the officers who are involved in the commissioning process. Their contact details are below:

CITIZENS' PANEL- HELP WANTED! - COULD YOU BE PART OF THE CONVERSATION TO CREATE A FAIRER CITY?

We're about to launch something exciting, and we'd like to you be a part of it.

We will soon be launching a city-wide conversation with our communities about equality, identity and community in Cardiff.

Creating a fairer and more inclusive city for all needs to involve the whole community and work from the ground up, and we want Cardiffians from all walks of life to tell us what a fairer Cardiff would look like and how we should get there.

Before we launch this ambitious conversation, we'd like to invite our valued Citizens' Panel members to help us with a test run!

We've developed a model for community conversations on belonging and opportunity in Cardiff, and hope to provoke some interesting and solutions-focused dialogue with our communities. We hope to hold these conversations throughout the city during March 2020.

We'll be holding a pilot at County Hall on 6 February 2020 between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. of the community conversations model. We're looking for 10 Citizens' Panel members to come along, participate and give us their feedback. You'll be compensated with a £30 Love2Shop voucher for your time.

We'll take your feedback and use it to shape the wider programme, helping us to ensure we get this important conversation with our residents right.
